

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to air an anti-Kerry documentary before the election is a use of the public airwaves to promulgate political propaganda. This is a shocking abuse of the property of the American people; broadcasters are required by law to serve the public interest. If Sinclair persists in this intent, the company's broadcasting license ought to be revoked immediately.